About Your Complimentary Engagement Session

We feel that engagement sessions prior to your wedding date are such an important way for us to make your wedding day great (as well as an opportunity to get some timeless images) that we include them in all our wedding packages as a gift to you! These sessions last a half of an hour to forty five minutes and give us that opportunity to learn more about you as a couple. Within this time we see how you move and what you like and don't like in photographs of yourselves so that we may better serve you on your wedding day. You have the opportunity to not only receive images you will cherish for years to come, but become comfortable with our working methods so the stress of the unknown will be removed from your wedding day. We offer scheduling of these engagement sessions Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday with starting times just about an hour prior to sunset. These days and times offer the best light of the day and the least crowded of locations as we want your images to be the best they can be. Once you are ready to set your appointment, we will send you a listing of suggested locations. These locations have a multitude of different looks that we can create for you within a small walk. We can help you find the perfect spot that is right for you.
